DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claim 1-28 are allowed.

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Regarding claims 1, 19, 20 and 25, the prior art of record fails to disclose or fairly suggest embedding at a transmitting node an invariant structure therein, converting a modified intentional signal into analog electromagnetic waves, transmitting the electromagnetic waves to at least one authorized and intended receiving node, detecting and then converting the analog electromagnetic waves received at the receiving node into modified intentional signals, differentiating the modified intentional signal from environmental noise through the embedded invariant structure at the authorized and intended receiving node, recovering the intentional signal by de-embedding the invariant structure, and repeating until all of the intentional signals have been modified, sent, detected, differentiated, and recovered along a communications link.

It is noted that the closest prior art, Carbonari (US 2005/0047480) discloses within an electromagnetic network, a transmitter using a modulating unit to modulate a signal intended for a destination node. Carbonari also discloses an analog to digital converter for converting a modulated signal. However, Carbonari fails to disclose or render obvious the above underlined limitations as claimed.
